CONFERENCE OVERVIEW:

The Clean-Tech Investor Summit, co-produced by International Business Forum and Clean Edge, and chaired by Technology Partners' Ira Ehrenpreis, is the premier clean-tech investment and innovation event of the year. Held each winter in Palm Springs, CA, the event brings together leading investors, Fortune 500 executives, entrepreneurs, and service providers for two days of high-level presentations, conversations, and networking. Attendance is capped at 500 registrants to guarantee the optimum networking experience. The event has become widely recognized as the premier event for active investors and other stakeholders to network with major corporations and emerging clean-tech companies.

Conference Chairman
 Ira Ehrenpreis,
 Technology Partners

Every year the Summit convenes the who's-who of the clean-tech industry. It is one of the rare times when the most influential thought leaders gather to discuss the most critical issues facing the clean-tech sector. In addition, the 7th Annual Summit will feature some of the most interesting, provocative, and compelling speakers at what has clearly become one of the best clean-tech networking events of the year."

11:00 – 11:45 Tech Trend: Natural Gas and Renewables: A Perfect Match or Misguided Concept?

One of the biggest hurdles facing solar, wind, and some other renewables is their intermittent nature. Pairing renewables with base-load natural gas (especially in areas lacking large hydro and geothermal sources) is a potential option for enabling the growth of utility-scale renewables, but it includes both promises and pitfalls. On this panel, industry insiders explain how plans are moving forward for these strange bedfellows, who the key players are, and what it might mean for the future of renewables.

Moderated by: Dan Reicher, Executive Director, Steyer-Taylor Center on Energy Policy and Finance, Stanford University

CONFERENCE TESTIMONIALS

“As a scientist within the space, I am often solicited to speak at such events. The Summit was one of the few meetings where I was able to expand my own network and create contacts with other professionals and thought-leaders.”

—Amory Lovins, Co-Founder,
Chairman and Chief Scientist,
Rocky Mountain Institute

“The clean-tech world is a very complex marketplace so it's really important to meet the right people. Everyone has just a few precious days to do this kind of stuff during the year and I think this is by far the top conference.”

—Warren Weiss, General Partner,
Foundation Capital

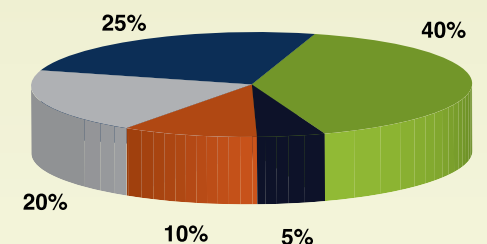

“This was my first opportunity to come to this conference and I have to tell you, the agenda and the thought-leaders that you have here, is second to none.”

—Scott Lang, CEO,
Silver Spring Networks
